Pretty, Funny Women Coming to San Diego!

Pretty, Funny Women (PFW) is the longest-running, all female stand-up comedy show in the country. Created in 1996, PFW is run, booked and hosted by comedienne and writer Lisa Sundstedt (a.k.a., The Heidi Fleiss of Comedy). PFW has been running strong in several venues for over 12 years including The Luxor Hotel in Las Vegas, The Comedy Stop at the Tropicana in Atlantic City, The La Jolla Comedy Store, The Comedy Club @ Pechanga and currently plays every month at the World Famous Hollywood Improv. It features a different line up each show with a roster of over 50 seasoned comics who can be seen regularly on network television series, national commercials, hit sitcoms, Comedy Central Specials & The Tonight Show with Jay Leno. Some of the women who have been featured in PFW over the past decade are Sarah Silverman, Chelsea Handler, Sherri Shepherd, Margaret Cho and Aisha Tyler. All the comics from Lisa's roster are hip, sexy, fun and hysterical. Stand-up comedy has never looked so good!

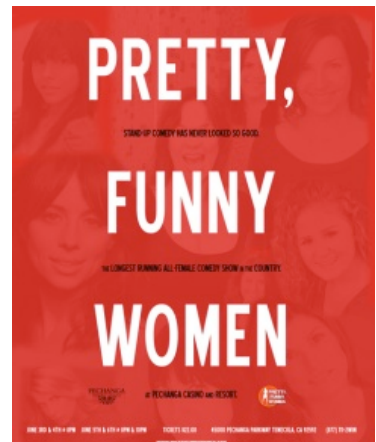

What Makes It Unique?

Individually, these comics work colleges and clubs across the country. PFW features an amazing line up of five of these women doing their BEST 20 minutes. The tone of the show is sexy, irreverent and smart. These comics are pros who have been working with each other for years. The chemistry between Lisa, the comics and the audience is unlike any other show out there.

Who Are the Fans?

Women love it because it's smart, honest, hysterical and relatable. Young boys love it because it's sexy. Men love it because it's genuinely funny. Young girls love it because they all want to be us. Gay men love it because they all want to be us. Grandmas love it because it's not "too" dirty. Couples love it because it's interactive. Feminists love it because we're not self deprecating and Scientologist love it because we're not on medication (at least not while performing).
